January - February issue is up.

Here or by my website.

This bi-monthly issue is Format Letter US 22 × 28cm and 44 Pages.

I write on semantic encoding: translation between two formal languages.

I write also in the field of computing, the most common encodings are the compilation of a programming language into machine language or intermediate language and the conversion of a document from one data format to another.

And, In the process of gif, ..

Analog-to-digital conversion, demonstration of data for the magic of the impression that we feel when seeing the succession of images.

The result of an analysis in different possibilities, essentially stationary objects, mobile objects and continuous transformations. ..

+ tumblr

Written on FEB 28, 2021